Burns are Fatal to Miss Julia Spahr, 81, of Eldorado

Clothing of Aged Woman Catches Fire at Oil Stove

Rushed to Ferrell Hospital, Dies There Early Today

Miss Julia Spahr, 81 years old, died at Eldorado today of burns sustained shortly before noon yesterday.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons, who made an investigation this morning, said that Miss Spahr's clothing caught fire as she was preparing a meal on an oil stove shortly before noon yesterday.

Rushed to Ferrell hospital, the elderly woman died at 6:45 a. m. today. Her body was moved to the Eldorado funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Coroner Gibbons said that the woman operated a rooming house at Eldorado for years but that three years ago began living with a sister, Mrs. Kate McDonald, on First street in Eldorado.

Yesterday Mrs. McDonald went to Horseshoe to the home of her son-in-law and daughter to take care of children while the couple took a son back to army camp in Kentucky.

In Eldorado, two young grandchildren of Mrs. McDonald were at the McDonald home with Miss Spahr. They were in the front room and the woman was in the kitchen preparing the meal. They looked toward the kitchen and saw her clothing in flames.

Miss Spahr did not run but sat down in a chair in the kitchen, not saying a word, and the two children ran to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Gene Lloyd, who hurried to the woman.

When she arrived the clothing had burned off from the waist down and she quickly tore off the rest. Then she called the Ferrell hospital.

No doctors were available, but the business manager and a nurse rushed to the McDonald home, where first aid was administered and an ambulance was called.

Coroner Gibbons said that there was no explosion of the stove, that apparently her clothing caught fire in some manner while she was cooking some potatoes. No inquest will be necessary, he stated.

U. S. Demands Indemnity for Plane Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States wrote Red Bulgaria an angry note of protest today over the killing of 13 Americans aboard an Israeli airliner. The note also demanded indemnity payments for survivors of the 13.

The note was to be delivered in Sofia by Swiss diplomats as soon as the State Department assembles final data on Bulgaria's destruction of the big plane by anti-aircraft fire. The Swiss will make the delivery because the United States and Bulgaria do not have diplomatic relations.

Diplomats said the "unprovoked and unwarranted" destruction of the Israeli airliner was sure to be embarrassing to Moscow and its entire satellite brood. Fifty-eight persons were killed. The bloody incident contrasted sharply with the improved East-West atmosphere set at the Big Four Geneva conference.

Successfully Remove 40 Pound Tumor From Woman's Abdomen

CHICAGO (AP)—A 40-pound tumor has been removed successfully by surgeons from the lower abdomen of a 43-year-old Chicago woman, St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital reported today.

The tumor, neglected for more than 10 years, measured 20 inches in diameter and was so large that the patient was almost unable to walk during the last two years, the hospital said.

But she has recovered fully and has returned home.

The hospital withheld the patient's name and the identity of the surgeons.

BATTLE FIRE AT HERRIN—Spectators are shown watching firemen fight a fire at Herrin late Thursday afternoon which caused an estimated $100,000 damage to the Annex building which housed an unused theatre and loan office on the main floor and several offices on the second floor. Firemen from 14 towns helped battle the blaze to keep it from spreading. (WSIL-TV Photo)

Window Broken at Dorrisville, Believed By Shotgun Blast

A blast, apparently from a shotgun, broke out a window pane at the Frank McElrath home near Dorrisville school around 3 p. m. yesterday, but nobody heard the shot.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said Mr. and Mrs. McElrath were sitting in their home when they heard the pane break. They heard no report from a gun and an investigation revealed that neither had the neighbors.

However, buckshot was found in the area of the window.

Bigamy Case at Marion Will Test New Law

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A Johnston City man will appear in Williamson County Circuit Court today on a bigamy charge in what may be the first use of a new procedure for eliminating grand juries in Illinois.

Edward Hubert Johnson, 30, is accused of marrying Ruth Rhemister, Cartersville, Nov. 24, 1952, in Houston, Tex., and marrying Lillie Anis, Johnston City, on Jan. 19, 1955.

Williamson County State's Atty. Carl Sneed has filed an information against Johnson under a measure passed by the 69th General Assembly and signed into law by Gov. William G. Stratton July 13.

The new law permits waiver of grand jury indictments by charged persons except for the crimes of treason, murder or manslaughter.

Under the law, the charged person is brought into open court after an information is filed and advised of his rights to indictment by a grand jury.

If the person waives indictment, as Johnson has, he is allowed to plead immediately.

Sneed says he believes the Johnson case is the first in southern Illinois in which the new law was used, and may be the first in the whole state.

As such, he said the case may become a test case before the Illinois Supreme Court. Sneed said some attorneys doubt the constitutionality of the new law because it makes exceptions in the kinds of crimes in which grand jury action may be waived.

Sneed said there is a move throughout the United States to abolish the grand jury system as being expensive, slow and cumbersome.

Hubby Takes TV Tube to Work, Wife Gets Divorce

DETROIT (AP)—Television led to an uncontested divorce for Mrs. Marian Borrusch, 51, on the ground her husband, George, 68, was too frugal to put up with feminine nature.

Mrs. Borrusch testified Thursday her husband took their television tube to work with him every morning so she wouldn't waste electricity and forbade her to move furniture or have friends visit because "it wore out the rug and used up all the coffee."

Five New Instructors Hired at HTHS; Two More are Needed

Five new instructors have been hired for this fall at Harrisburg Township high school as Principal Raymond L. Foster seeks to fill the gap caused by seven resignations.

Teachers who have resigned are Miss Velma Ogg, Miss Eleanor Etherton, Mrs. Lolo Eddy, Charles Ridenour, James McKee, Lamire Moore and Donald White.

Hired for the new term are Mrs. Carl Beggs, Donald B. Chamness, Kenneth G. Kline, Mrs. Deloris Lienesch and Phillip T. Cain.

No teachers have yet been hired to succeed Mrs. Eddy, dramatics teacher who retired, and Mr. Moore, English teacher who resigned to work on his Master's degree at Southern Illinois university.

Named to teach mathematics classes taught by Mr. McKee is Mrs. Carl Beggs of Harrisburg, who taught for him last spring when McKee was suffering injuries received in an auto crash. Mrs. Beggs has her bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois university.

Mr. McKee also assisted in athletic coaching and Mr. Chamness, Cairo native who received his bachelor's degree from Murray State college in June, will take over these duties. He will teach one class of mathematics and history classes formerly taught by Miss Etherton.

New shop instructor will be Kenneth G. Kline, who holds a degree from McKeesport college and who is attending Southern Illinois university this summer. Kline succeeds Donald White, who resigned to go into business at Carmi.

Succeeding Miss Ogg, English teacher who will teach at Decatur this fall, is Mrs. Deloris Lienesch, who holds a bachelor's degree from SIU.

Charles Ridenour, commerce instructor, resigned to teach in Bloomington high school, which means that Mrs. Ridenour, supervisor of music in the Harrisburg city schools, will be leaving, too. Named to teach commerce at HTHS this fall is Phillip T. Cain, Saline county native who holds both a bachelor's and master's degree from SIU.

Mr. Foster also announced that a graduate interne from SIU, Miss Stella Harris, will assist Mrs. Marshall Cochran in the Home Economics department during half the day while she is working on her master's degree.

U. S. Buys 465 British Jets for Royal Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is buying 465 jet fighter planes from British manufacturers for Britain's Royal Air Force, it was announced today.

The Hawker Hunter planes, originally earmarked for another European country, will cost 140 million dollars. They were ordered in April, 1953, at a time when greater progress with German rearmament was expected. There was speculation that the planes at that time were intended for the new German air force.

The announcement of America's "generous offer" to the RAF was made by the Defense Ministry in London and issued without formal comment by the Defense Department here.

The Hunter planes will replace about 400 F86 Sabrejets now flown by the RAF. The Sabres were supplied Britain by the United States and Canada in 1952 and 1953 "at a critical time" in Britain's airpower buildup.

The United States will assign the Sabres to some other country or countries, it was announced.

The American decision to turn over British-built planes to Britain's armed forces marked a shift in "offshore procurement" plans as worked out in 1952. At that time officials said that this country would buy British planes for other NATO countries in an effort to build up British production and speed NATO arming.

But American funds would not buy British planes for British forces, it was said then.

Today's announcement said the British government accepted with gratitude the generous offer of the United States government to make Hunters available to the Royal Air Force in place of Sabres.

The temperature soared and soared yesterday until it reached a record for at least four years.

When the rise of the mercury stopped, it was 109 degrees!

Clyde Pittman said that this is the highest reading that has been recorded during the four years he has been observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg got three or four drops of rainfall shortly after noon yesterday, but Eldorado and Carrier Mills reported pretty good showers.

Firemen from 14 Cities Battle Blaze at Herrin

Fire in Three-Story Building Causes $100,000 Damage

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Firemen from 14 municipalities battled a $100,000 blaze for four hours Thursday night before bringing it under control. But the fire continued smoldering through the night.

Flames broke out in the three-story Annex Building on Park Avenue, Herrin's main street, and quickly burned out the roof of the building. Firemen battled to keep the blaze from spreading to other buildings.

Billowing clouds of smoke could be seen for miles around the area. About 3,000 persons jammed the streets and sidewalks to watch the blaze.

The cause of the fire was undetermined, but passersby reported that they heard a series of explosions at the time the fire started. No injuries were reported, and damage was unofficially estimated at almost $100,000.

The Annex Building houses a loan company and an unused movie theater on the ground floor, and offices on the second floor. The top floor was used as an attic.

Firemen from Herrin, Marion, West Frankfort, Carbondale, Murphysboro, Salem, McLeansboro, Benton, Christopher, Du Quoin, Colp, Johnston City, Cartersville and Zeigler rushed to the scene to battle the flames.

Electricity in the immediate vicinity of the fire was cut off, and water service was suspended to homes and industries during the blaze.

Some of the members of Congress were large red, white and blue buttons proclaiming "Ike in '56." These were distributed by Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio).

When the President walked into the breakfast room he was greeted with a chant of "We Want Ike."

Reporters were not permitted in the room when the President spoke, but his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, provided a synopsis of what the chief executive said.

The President urged Republicans in Congress to return home with a positive, not a negative approach to national and international problems and GOP plans for meeting them.

No Reference to Future

He stressed the importance of unifying the Republican party behind a set of principles which would be accepted with trust and confidence by the people of the country.

He said a true Republican was a man or woman who best represented the basic principles of the nation and the party and did not run for office simply as a member of a political organization.

Properly united, he said, the GOP could "stay here forever."

Mr. Eisenhower made no direct reference to his own political future, but he did point out that from the days when he began to weaken in his concept that an old soldier had no business in politics, his primary interest had been to do what ever possible for unifying the Republicans.

Some of the members of Congress who hope that Mr. Eisenhower will run again took this as an encouraging sign. One GOP House member said, "Well, at least he left the door open."

Mr. Eisenhower also described as "bosh—complete bosh" recently printed commentaries to the effect that there was a danger that the American people might come to expect too much in the way of concrete results from the recent summit meeting at Geneva.

The President planned to leave Washington in the early afternoon for a weekend at his Gettysburg farm.

He said he did not believe a gift of stock to minor children is the sort of divesting the Senate Armed Services Committee had in mind.

The Tennessee Democrat said, "It does not seem to me to constitute a severance of interest."

Kefauver suggested that the new investigation be made by the armed services committee or the investigating subcommittee.

GI with Wife, Five Children, Begins Prison Term for Desertion 11 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—A GI who borrowed a name, built a thriving business and reared a devoted family during an 11-year period, today began serving a 25-year sentence for desertion from the Army in wartime.

The GI, Pvt. Arthur Athans, was sentenced by a court-martial Thursday after pleading guilty to the desertion charge.

He left behind a sobbing wife and five children who learned his true identity only after his arrest on May 18.

Athans deserted from the Army on Dec. 7, 1944, while serving a five year sentence at Fort Knox, Ky., for being absent without leave for the third time.

He worked as a farm laborer for a year and then settled in Levant, N. Y., where he took the name Joseph Trainer and went to work as a mechanic.

Founded Motor Sales Company

In 1946 Trainer married and founded the Levant Motor Sales Co. in Jamestown. The business flourished. As Joseph Trainer, Athans became a respected member of the community. He had five children who now range in age from 8 years to 20 months.

"I couldn't wish for a better husband," said his wife, Marjorie, at the time Athans was sentenced. She gave her name as "Mrs. Trainer."

She presented at the court martial a petition signed by 600 "friends, customers, and townsmen" asking for leniency.

Defense Attorney George Grove Sr. told the court martial "I don't know anything about this fellow Arthur Athans. But I do know and have found out about Joe Trainer."

"Of the dozens and dozens and dozens of people I have spoken to, not one has had a bad or evil thing to say about Joe Trainer. Eleven years have demonstrated that the boy he was when he made a damned fool of himself doesn't exist today."

The Army trial counsel, Lt. Joseph E. Fazzano, demanded a stiff penalty. He said Athans "deserted when the war was at its peak . . . in justice to the United States government and to the millions of men who served in the armed forces, the court should impose a severe sentence."

Athans' sentence is subject to automatic review by Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, commander of the 1st Army, and then by the judge advocate's office in Washington.

It may also be appealed before the U. S. Court of Military Appeals. Athans, who was drafted into service from Buffalo, N. Y., declined to say how he was finally traced and arrested.

His attorney said his first wife, who had threatened to divorce him, may have prompted Athans to leave the Army. His first wife eventually received an annulment of their marriage.

Kefauver Asks Probe of Talbott Stock Disposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver urged today that the Senate conduct "a very full and detailed" investigation of how Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott disposed of stock he held before taking his government job.

Talbott told the Senate Investigating subcommittee earlier this week that he gave a block of Chrysler Motors stock to his children and sold securities he held in such other firms as Electric Auto and Standard Packaging.

He said the stock he disposed of has since depreciated some three-quarters of a million dollars in value. The only stock he retained, he told the subcommittee, was that in firms having no dealings with the government.

Talbott, like Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, was required before the Senate Armed Services Committee would confirm his nomination to rid himself of stock in firms having defense contracts.

Kefauver said Talbott "should make a very full and detailed explanation of exactly what he did with his stock."

"I do not believe a gift of stock to minor children is the sort of divesting the Senate Armed Services Committee had in mind," the Tennessee Democrat said. "It does not seem to me to constitute a severance of interest."

Kefauver suggested that the new investigation be made by the armed services committee or the investigating subcommittee.

Will Circle Earth At Altitude of 200 to 300 Miles

Scientific Project Is Approved by President Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today announced plans to launch small, unmanned satellites which will circle the earth at an altitude of between 200 and 300 miles at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

President Eisenhower gave the project his approval today.

Spokesmen for the National Science Foundation and the National Academy of Sciences outlined the project at the White House today.

They predicted that a satellite about the size of a basketball could be blasted by rocket into an orbit around the earth sometime between July, 1957, and December, 1958.

Data Available to All

Speaking for the President, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty stressed that the project was entirely for scientific purposes and that data collected in the experiment would be made available to all scientists throughout the world, including the Russians.

Preliminary estimates placed the cost of the initial project at 10 million dollars, exclusive of the cost of the rockets needed to propel the satellites beyond the earth.

The scientists who joined Hagerty in explaining the project to a crowded White House news conference were not definite on the materials from which the "bird"—as the scientists referred to the satellite—would be constructed. Nor did they know how many satellites would be attempted.

Depending on the weight and construction of the satellite, the scientists estimated that the object would whiz around the earth every 90 minutes for a period of days, with an outside possibility it would go on for some weeks.

Object of Experiment

The project will be part of this country's participation in the international geophysical year, which takes place between July, 1957, and December, 1958.

Object of the experiment will be to study air density at between 200 and 300 miles above the earth, explore the ionosphere which affects radio transmissions, produce information on the dangerous effects of cosmic radiation from the sun and possibly assist the world in more accurate long range weather forecasting.

The scientists agreed, too, that information gained in the experiment would be of definite value in the ultimate scientific goal of human travel in outer space.

The national foundation and the academy stand in a joint statement that observations made possible by the satellites would "indicate the conditions that would have to be met and the difficulties that would have to be overcome if the day comes when man goes beyond the earth's atmosphere in his travels."

The highest man has been is about 18 miles in a rocket plane.

Pulaski Grand Jury Indicts Five For 21 Burglaries

ANNA, Ill. (AP)—A special Pulaski county grand jury has indicted five men for 21 burglaries in Union, Jackson, Pulaski, Johnson, Massac and Alexander counties.

The burglaries took place in a period from April, 1953, to the men's arrest in June of this year.

Robert Bartelson, Grand Chain, and Joe Horner and Dean Eastwood, both of Karnak, were each indicted Thursday on three counts of burglary and larceny.

Eastwood pleaded guilty and was immediately sentenced to one to three years at the state prison at Menard.

Art Hannah, Benton, Mo., was indicted on six charges of burglary and larceny, and Lester Winchester, operator of Club 37 in Johnson County, was indicted on nine charges of receiving stolen property.

Gov't Loses Fight To Deport Bridges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The government today lost its 16-year-old fight to deport longshore boss Harry Bridges.

The ruling by Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman that Bridges was not and never had been a Communist at the time of his naturalization dashed the government's hopes to strip him of his U. S. citizenship and deport him to his native Australia.

The judge held the government had failed to prove its charges that Bridges had fraudulently obtained his citizenship by falsely swearing about his alleged Communist affiliations.

There's Not Much Use in Holding the Conventions

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U. S. Defense Of Europe On Flimsy Foundation: Gruenther Has Done Valiant Job With NATO; Two World Wars, H-Bomb Spectre Make Europeans Neutral And Pacifist.

PARIS. — The time is approaching when Congress will want to take a penetrating look at the flimsy foundation on which is built our so-called defense of Europe. If a congressional committee should probe a little deeper than shopping tours along the Rue De Rivoli, lunch at the Ritz and an evening at the Casino De Paris, it would find a condition of neutralism and fair-weather friendships that would persuade some congressmen we should pull out of Europe altogether.

This alarming statement is not written by one who believes in isolation, but rather by one who believes the cultural, economic and friendship ties with Europe should never be severed. Defense, however, is something else again. And there is no use guarding your bank or business with a rusty revolver in the hands of a night watchman who sleeps most of the time and who couldn't bear to pull the trigger if he did find someone robbing the place.

This sounds like a pessimistic picture. However, here is a factual report on what the USA faces in regard to the defense of Europe:
NATO, the North Atlantic treaty organization, is a praiseworthy but none too successful attempt to make nations work together, whose main military spark is Gen.
Al Gruenther — brilliant, indefatigable commander of NATO's military organization. Gruenther has labored valiantly to whip together in fact an organization which two years ago existed only on paper. He has increased NATO bases from almost zero to 140. He has built miles of pipeline to bring oil and gas to these bases and he has materially improved the good will and cooperation know-how of the 14 NATO nations.
Eisenhower himself would be the first to say General Gruenther has done a better job than did he, Ike.

BENEATH THE SURFACE
However, when you probe beneath the surface of NATO's defenses here is what you find:

1. Most of the 140 bases are American, paid for by the USA and manned by American troops.
2. The French, who were supposed to supply the backbone of NATO's manpower, have fizzled.
Two French divisions which had been equipped by the USA without a word to Gruenther and sent to North Africa—American equipment and all. Two additional divisions supposed to be mobilized by the French still aren't. That's four divisions minus.
3. The Norwegians are building NATO bases to protect them from Russian attack — and they need protection, for one Russian base, Lubbeck, is only 26 minutes away.
But under Norwegian law American troops can't occupy these bases until parliament meets and so votes. And while the Norwegian parliament debates, Russia could take the bases in a matter of hours. Thus what we are doing is to build modern bases in Norway for Russian use later.

4. Modernization of the French army has been postponed indefinitely. Minister of Defense Koeing estimates that the French army cannot get modern equipment before 1963, by which time much of the "modern" equipment to be ordered would be out of date.
The French military budget has not even been voted for 1955-56.
5. Marshal Tito, with one of the toughest armies in Europe, has gone neutral. He did this after visiting Premier Nehru of India, not after the Kremlin leaders came to Belgrade. It was after they heard he had gone neutral that they were encouraged to come.
The Turks rushed to Belgrade to urge Tito to go ahead with the three-power Balkan defense pact

—Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia
—but he said no.

6. As a result of Tito's neutralism, the Greeks are beginning to talk about it.

WAVE OF NEUTRALISM

7. Neutralism is strong in Germany, the country we are depending on to bolster European defenses. A recent civil-defense test of German defenses showing that, as in the United States, Germany was wide open to hydrogen warfare, brought forth a panic of neutralist press lament. German editors wrung their hands over re-arming Germany, claimed that the American weapons to be used by the new German army were obsolete.

The neutralist campaign reached such a fervor that American authorities had to drop hints to the Germans that the "obsolete" weapons were the same as those used by American troops in Germany and if Germany thought American troops should pull out, we would be glad to consider it. After that the hand-wringing stopped.

But the fact remains that two world wars plus the dread spectre of the hydrogen bomb have made Europe overwhelmingly neutral — neutral and pacifist. Sweden is officially and completely neutral.

The French and Italian peasants say: "What did I get in return for my lost son?" They refer of course to the fact that their hard lot in the European economy is just the same as it was before the last war took their boys away. It's highly doubtful if they would fight.

In brief, the defense of Europe in case of war would boil down to the United States, Canada and England — with the Turks doing what they could in the Mediterranean.

THE DIFFICULT ALTERNATIVES

Those are the facts which any congressional committee digging beneath the surface would find in Europe.

As to the alternatives and remedies, frankly there are no sure-fire remedies and the alternatives are not happy ones. Here are some of them:

- A. We could pull out of Europe altogether, which would turn Europe very sour and eventually perhaps Communist.

Mr. Average Home Buyer is Age 35, Pays About $12,750; $81 Payments

CHICAGO (UP) — Mr. Average Home Buyer, the man responsible for America's biggest housing boom, is 35 years old and has a wife and two kids.

His yearly income is around $5, 800. He pays about $12,750 for his house, and his mortgage runs about $9,700 or 76 per cent of the purchase price. This means a down payment of $3,050.

This composite portrait of the average house buyer is derived from statistics compiled by the United States Savings and Loan League, national trade organization of savings and loan associations.

The old rule of thumb is that you should spend no more than one-fourth of your income for housing.

Averages $81 Monthly

According to the Savings and Loan League, Mr. Average Home Buyer's monthly mortgage payments run about $81 per month, including taxes and insurance.

This is about 17 per cent of his gross monthly income, but then there are heating costs and maintenance to be considered.

Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the league, said the figures show that "today's housing boom is on a fairly sound basis."

"In paying much less than 25 per cent of his monthly income for housing, the average home buyer appears to be acting conservatively," Strunk said.

"It must be remembered, however, that the figures in this analysis cover the three major types of home financing — conventional,
FHA insured and GI loans.

"I think you would find that those home buyers with conventional loans pay less of a percentage of their monthly income for housing than buyers with government-type mortgages.

"This is because conventional financing generally involves a higher down payment and lower monthly payments."

Selling Price Varies

The government's own figures show that the average veteran who bought a home under a GI loan last year was 32 years old, earned $5,780 a year and paid $11,640 for his house.

According to the government, the GI's average monthly housing expense was $95.15, including payments on principal, interest, taxes, insurance, heat, utilities and maintenance.

For the average price of $12,750,
the Savings and Loan League said, the buyer gets a five or six room house plus garage facilities.

That might sound strange to big city dwellers. In the booming Chicago suburban area, for example, it would be almost impossible to find such a deal.

Bankers School Opens At SIU August 1

A total of 86 students have been accepted for enrollment in the Illinois Bankers Association third annual School For Development of Junior Executives to be held Aug.
1-13 on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois university. This was announced today by George W.
Bettinghaus, chairman of the school committee and vice president and cashier of the Springfield Marine bank.

While at the two-week session banking students will hear lectures and participate in discussions of practical banking and related financial subjects including economics, commercial law, accounting, bank operations, community relations, credit analysis, bank investments, safety deposit operation, and profit-sharing plans for banks.

The story is familiar: start to wash off the grime on the wall around the light switch and pretty soon you have to scrub the whole wall to make it match.

Review Board Upholds Conviction Of Army Officer

WASHINGTON — An Army review board has upheld the court martial conviction of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming on charges of collaborating with the enemy while a Korean War prisoner. It also approved the sentence of dismissal from service.

But the court threw out two sets of charges against the 47-year-old Racine, Wis., officer based on alleged collaboration between June and December, 1951. It also set aside the court martial's finding that Fleming extolled the virtues of communism while leading prisoners of war discussion groups.

The board, however, ruled that Fleming was guilty of collaboration between February and May, 1951.

Besides dismissal from the service if the review board action is upheld, Fleming loses pay and allowances of about $700 a month.

He may appeal to the U. S. Court

Reapportionment Bill is Upheld

CHICAGO — The constitutionality of Illinois' reapportionment bill has been upheld by Superior Court Judge John J. Lupe.

Lupe Thursday denied a request for a declaratory judgment against the Chicago Board of Election Commissioners.

The request was made by Edward Donovan Jr., a 25-year-old lawyer who contended the new map of Illinois senatorial districts was invalid because it did not heed a mandate that area be the prime consideration in drawing up boundaries.

Lupe ruled that the reapportionment map was in substantial compliance with the constitution and therefore the court should not interfere.

Donovan said he would appeal the ruling.

Miss Edna Henshaw To Attend Art Camp At Allerton Park

Miss Edna Henshaw, 319 South Maple St., Harrisburg, is one of 125 high school students who will spend a week at Robert Allerton Park, University of Illinois conference center near Monticello, at an art school organized by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

She will attend the first one-week session, July 31 to August 6, going under sponsorship of the Harrisburg Woman's club of which Mrs. J. L. Miller, 508 North Webster, is president.

Students study design, sketching and painting under instruction arranged with the University. The park's formal and informal gardens, statuary, landscaping and natural scenes are the subjects for many excellent pictures.

Allerton Park is located 26 miles southwest of Urbana-Champaign and about five miles southwest of Monticello.

Growing chicks need 20 to 21 per cent protein in their ration up to eight weeks.

Rayburn Says Congress May Quit Saturday

By United Press
Speaker Sam Rayburn said today that Congress may finish all the work it intends to do this year and adjourn Saturday night.

Rayburn added, however, that a lot remains to be done and that the House may have to meet again Monday. Still, "there is a possibility," he said, that the session can wind up its affairs Saturday night.

Rayburn added, however, that a lot remains to be done and that the House may have to meet again Monday. Still, "there is a possibility," he said, that the session can wind up its affairs Saturday night.

The President also said that he felt Congress should have approved the administration bill to extend federal credit to enable school districts to start school construction without waiting for outright federal grants.

FEEDING ADVISER

Godard's Farm Market

How Do You Rate As A Hog Man?

The average hog man weans only about 6.47 pigs per litter, but the Purina Research Farm weans 9.15 pigs per litter under average farm conditions with regular farm equipment. It takes 5 pigs to break even.

It is estimated that the average weaning weight for a litter is only 193.2 lbs. Purina Farm litters average 386.9 lbs. Just twice the average.

We suggest you visit us today if you are interested in beating average figures. Start your pigs fast on Purina's new taste treat, Baby Pig Chow, followed by famous Purina Pig Startena and watch them go.

We weighed 12 pigs for Sam Witherspoon, Carrier Mills, and the pigs averaged 54.3 at weaning. He sold them this past week, when they were five months and 16 days old and they averaged 227 lbs. each. They were fed on that good Purina pig chow.

Gilbert Gibbs, Rt. 3, Hbg., sold six hogs which weighed 1240 lbs. These hogs were fed with Checkerboard Chow, and averaged 206 lbs. each when sold at the age of five months.

Lavern Sutton, Stonefort, sold 12 hogs six months and five days old which averaged 231½ lbs. each.

On the Romantic Side

Those children of Gobel Dutton — Shirley grown up and married and the boy out in Korea. Fancy him and that pretty young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dallas meeting out there in the Pacific. Congratulations to Shirley and Donald Price.

Please Pass The Blue Ribbons

We're going out to the fair to see the 4-H club exhibits by our Purina chow feeders in the 4-H clubs of the county, and we sure want to get a good look at the dress revue for which the 4-H girls are rehearsing this evening. Good work by the club leaders, and good work by the clubs result in prize awards. Good luck kids!

COMPLETE AIR FORCE BASIC—Jerry Wayne McDonald, 17, (left), son of Mrs. Ivory McDonald, 12 West Sloan; Billy Eugene May, 17, (center), son of Mrs. Flora May, 6 South Shaw, and Carl Hudson Jackson, 17, (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Curran Jackson, 18 South Shaw, all in Harrisburg, are completing their Air Force basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

what happened to the highway program was Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.). He said Mr. Eisenhower should call a special session to act on roads legislation.

Other congressional news:
Dixon-Yates: Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) charged that the Securities & Exchange Commission had made up its mind to approve financing plans of the Dixon-Yates utility combine even before it started hearings on them. SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong heatedly denied this "very unwarranted conclusion."

TVA: A Senate public works subcommittee postponed action until January on a bill to let the Tennessee Valley Authority finance any further expansion with revenue bonds rather than Treasury funds.

Atlantic Union: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles questioned the wisdom of a proposed Senate resolution to invite North Atlantic nations to an "exploratory convention" on forming an Atlantic union. He said such a convention should be held "under less official auspices."

Natural Gas: The House passed 299-203 Thursday night a bill exempting natural gas producers from direct federal controls. But the Senate already is on record as unwilling to act on it at this session. Opponents charged during the 10-hour House debate that the measure would lead to higher gas rates for consumers.

U. S. Corn Belt
The "corn belt" of the United States is made up of the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, and South Dakota.

Ever Consider Raising Rabbits?

You can have a profitable sparetime business right in your own back yard. That's right, we're talking about raising rabbits.

It doesn't take many rabbits to build a good size business because not many animals are as prolific as rabbits. Six does can produce up to 600-700 lbs. of meat a year... putting them in a production class with animals 100 times their size. Ask for the Purina Rabbit book and for our help in getting into the rabbit business. It can be profitable and a lot of fun too.

FOR SALE: Registered Purina fed Brittany spaniel and bird dog pups, J. W. Wintzler.

WEATHER REPORT: This humid weather is hard on humanity but is performing a real service for mankind at the same time. Corn planted late is thriving like everything and will continue to do so as long as it is hot and moist. A hot very dry spell would be too bad for it.

We Grow 'em Bigger
Numerous farm wives are eager to see our Fall bulb catalog. Come August 15 we will be ready to show them too.

The Roosters Are Doing All Right Too!

Mrs. Lee DeNeal, Rt. 3, Harrisburg, bought 250 chickens four months ago, started feeding them Purina chow and she has every one of those 250 chickens, all thriving healthy young pullets now.

Mrs. Beulah Price, Rt. 1, Carrier Mills, is collecting eggs now from the nests of Purina chow eating chickens, which are only four and a half months old.

Thomas Partain, Rt. 3, Harrisburg, is proud of his flock of 50 chickens, fed on Purina chow, which are seven weeks old and weigh two pounds and six ounces each.

Mrs. Wilma Hartwell, Rt. 1, Harrisburg, who bought 200 chickens, raised the 200 on Purina chow and they are now 8 weeks old.

Mrs. Hobby Says Goodbye to Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UP) — Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby bade a tearful farewell to the Cabinet today.

The first secretary of health, education and welfare leaves the government as the close of business Saturday.

At her last formal meeting with President Eisenhower and the Cabinet at the White House this morning, tears welled up in Mrs. Hobby's eyes as she heard the President extol her service and say how sorry her colleagues were to see her go.

Mrs. Hobby received from the President and the Cabinet a handsome farewell gift in the form of a large glass bowl.

The bowl will carry this inscription: "From the President, the vice president and the Cabinet to Oveta Culp Hobby, first secretary of health, education and welfare, April 11, 1953-Aug. 1, 1955."

Democrat Urges House Republicans To Kill Controversial Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UP) — A key Democrat appealed to House Republicans today to team up with conservative Democrats and kill President Eisenhower's public housing program.

"Here we go again on the famous socialized public housing," Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) said as the House by voice vote approved a move to take up the controversial housing bill.

Smith, chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, told the House he was opposed to such "skulduggery." He asked Republicans and conservative Democrats to "stay here until Christmas" if necessary to block "socialized housing."

Rep. Jessie P. Wolcott (R-Mich.) appealed for support for his substitute housing bill, which he said

Famous Grandparents in White House Affect Children, Maj. Eisenhower Says

WASHINGTON (UP) — Does having a grandfather in the White House affect the raising of children?

"It couldn't help but affect them," says one who should know — Maj. John Eisenhower.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower's son talked about the problem briefly with reporters Thursday. He did so at a news conference he called to get "all the requests" for pictures and interviews satisfied at one blow.

The young major and his wife and three children—David, 7, Barbara Anne, 6, and Susan, 3½ — have just moved into new quarters at nearby Fort Belvoir, Va. His tour of duty there officially begins next Monday, and is likely to last three years.

Maj. Eisenhower answered questions for newsmen before bringing the children out for picture-taking.

"It's not good for kids to be subjected to this sort of thing for too long a time," he explained. "I'm sure you understand especially if you have kids of your own. So if you'll fire away with your questions at me, we'll have picture-taking later."

He was asked if the fact that their grandfather lived in the White House affected the children. Maj. Eisenhower replied that he and his wife, Barbara, "have made every effort to keep the spotlight to a minimum."

But, he said the "situation has some effect, it couldn't help it." He said the children see their pictures in the paper and can't help but absorb some of the White House atmosphere when they visit grandfather and grandmother.

"We think we've been reasonably successful" in keeping the attention to a minimum, the major said.

Newest thing in Room with a View

It's the 4-Door Riviera—the stunning new hit of America's Hardtops

WHEN Buick introduced this nation's first hardtop—the Riviera—folks went for it in a big way, and fast.

They liked the Convertible look of this 2-door beauty—long, low and rakish. They liked the added security of the steel roof overhead. And they certainly liked the absence of center posts in the side window areas—which gave a completely unbroken view left and right.

People liked it all so well that, over the past six years, they made the Riviera the biggest-selling hardtop in the world, bar none. And it still is.

Now Buick has come up with another great advance in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—and it's a sensational hit.

It has everything the original 2-Door Riviera has—plus separate doors for rear-seat passengers, and a whole of a lot more room for them.

Rock-solid half-pillars on either side are what latch the front doors and hinge the rear ones. So there's no center post above the door line—and a completely open sweep of view to both sides.

And the roominess provided by this gorgeous new hardtop is really something—over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom in the rear.

Why don't you come see this brand-new kind of automobile that's heading up the parade of the hottest-selling line of Buicks in history?

That way you can also try what else is to be had here—Buick comfort, Buick power, Buick ride and handling and roadability—plus the electrifying action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Do it this week—tomorrow would be fine—and you'll see what record volume really means in the way of record-high trade-in deals.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

National Pro Teams to Open Exhibition Tilts

PHILADELPHIA — The National Football League opens its 36-game, cross-country, pre-season exhibition series Saturday night when the Los Angeles Rams meet Fort Ord at Long Beach, Calif.

Before the regular season opens, the member teams will have appeared in 29 cities in 20 states, mostly in games benefiting charity under the sponsorship of newspapers and other organizations.

Four of the games will be played in the Pacific Northwest in what Commissioner Bert Bell regards as a long range invasion. Two games will be played in Washington and two in Oregon.

The elevated shoes of NFL teams also will dig up gridirons in Texas, Florida, Missouri, Tennessee, West Virginia, Minnesota, North Carolina, Arkansas, Colorado and Alabama during the far-flung exhibition play.

Bell said the pre-season series brings in about $500,000 annually for charity.

The schedule:

The newspaper reporter got to his feet cautiously, looking warily for some reaction from Chief Will Gentry to prevent Shayne from walking out. Instead, to his surprise, he saw a faint smile on Gentry's thick lips, a twinkle in his eyes as Shayne stormed out the door.

He stopped Rourke from following, getting to his feet as he did so. "Wait, Tim."

His hand went inside his coat to withdraw the 38 with which he had threatened Shayne earlier. He held it out but first to the reporter.

"Give this to Mike. He may need it."

Timothy Rourke reached Shayne's parked car just as the red-head was slamming it back savagely against the bumper of a car parked too close to allow him to swing away from the curb.

Rourke jerked the door open and slid in beside him.

Shayne swung the wheel hard, went forward with his foot hard on the accelerator so the right end of his front bumper forced aside the rear bumper of the car ahead. The heavy sedan leaped forward in the street.

"He's got Lucy and he hasn't got the money," said Shayne.

"Sure," agreed Rourke just as flatly. "He'll torture her to learn what you and she did with the money. But he won't kill her, Mike. Not as long as he thinks there's any chance in the world you've got the dough, he'll keep Lucy alive to put the pressure on you. One thing that keeps bothering me... where is Hugh Allerdice all this time?"

"Yeh. No one has even seen him tonight that we know of. Look, Tim. Did you talk to the taxi driver who picked Bristow up after he was shot?"

"I don't know that anyone on the paper talked to him."

"Was his name given out?"

"Not for publication. Gentry asked us to keep him incognito to avoid any possible reprisals and because he might be an important witness later."

"But you know who he is?"

"Sure. Name is Joe Agnew. I remember. Lives in the Southwest section, I think."

Shayne was breathing hard and the lines in his face were deep. He pulled the car toward an all-night drugstore. "Go in and call Agnew," he ordered brusquely.

much though, I sort of knew there was something wrong when I first saw him there on 18th Street. A hackie sort of gets a sixth sense about things, I say a hackie sort of gets a sixth sense if you know what I mean."

Shayne pressed him: "Go back and tell it just as it happened."

"Well, I was cruising, see? Had just dropped a fare up on 24th. A dopey old dame that gimme a nickel tip. I knew soon's she got in..."

"So you were cruising empty on 18th?" Shayne put in.

"Nossir. I was running south when I hit 18th and something just seemed to tell me to turn the corner there or I'd miss a fare. You get that way, hacking. Like as if you had a sort of..."

"Sixth sense," said Shayne hastily.

"Yeah."

Most Modern, Shortest Stroke V8's* in any leading truck!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Here's the measure of a truly modern V8 engine — Chevrolet's advanced oversquare design. It means less friction... greater efficiency... longer engine life!

Here are more dollar-saving reasons why new Chevrolet trucks offer you the most modern V8's* your money can buy!

MODERN 12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM
Double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition for finer performance.

GAS-SAVING HIGH-COMPRESSION RATIO
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power—and work—out of gas.

EXTRA-HIGH POWER PER POUND
Since these V8's deliver high power per pound of engine weight, more power is available for hauling.

ADVANCED AIRCRAFT-TYPE VALVES
Valve action is more positive for finer, smoother performance.

FLOATING OIL INTAKE... FULL-PRESSURE LUBRICATION
Oil intake selects the cleanest oil for positive, full-pressure engine lubrication.

*V8 standard in the new LCF model, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward-Control models.

Yanks Have Entire New Infield And Then Some on Farm Clubs

NEW YORK (NEA)—Mickey Newhouse was going into ecstasies about Bobby Richardson. Ralph Houk, who manages the Denver club of the American Association, pronounces Richardson, not yet 20, ready for the Yankees now. Richardson, on the small side at five feet seven and 160 pounds and signed out of high school at Sumter, S. C., progressed so rapidly in a year and a half in D and A that Casey Stengel seriously considered keeping him with the parent club in the spring.

"Richardson has amazingly quick hands," testifies Black Mike Cochran, now scouting for the New York Americans, "pivots and gets that ball away with a sidearm motion on a double play as quickly as Charley Gehring, Joe Gordon or any of the great second base men of the past."

Doug Ford Leads Field in Second Round at Akron

AKRON, Ohio 10-8 — Favorite Doug Ford, newly-crowned PGA champion, led a tough competitive field today into the second round of the $15,000 Rubber City Open tournament which featured under par golf in Thursday's initial round.

The Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., pro, used a "hot" putter to card a six under par 66 to lead the pack, but he had stiff competition from 19 other golfers in the field of 150.

Ford's lead was one stroke over six second place finishers and two strokes over seven others who carded 68's in the first 18 holes.

Ford went the front nine with a four under par 32 by eagling the No. 2 hole with a 50-foot putt and birdies on Nos. 6 and 7. He kept his "hot" putter in operation again on the back nine to come through with a two under par 34 to insure him the lead.

One stroke behind Ford at the end of the day with 67 were Mike Homa, N. Y.; Al Balding, Erie, Pa.; and Dutch Harrison, St. Louis, Mo.

Ford's 32 on the front nine was matched by Jack Burke Jr., also of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., but Burke faltered in the backstretch and ended with a par 36 to tie for third place with six others.

They were Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill.; Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif.; Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio; Fred Hawkins, St. Andrews, Ill.; Al Mengert, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; and George Bingham, Kansas City, Mo.

Tommy Bolt, the tournament champion last year, sailed over the front nine with a 33, but couldn't get his putter working on the back nine. He took a 37 coming in for an 18-hole total of 70.

After today's qualifying round, the field will be trimmed to the low 60 players to compete in the final rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Legion to Play Herrin VFW Here Sunday

The Herrin VFW baseball nine is slated to put in an appearance at the park diamond Sunday afternoon as the guests of the Harrisburg Legion nine. Not much is known of the Herrin team except that they have a hard slugging lineup and have won more games than they have lost to date.

The locals expect to be at full strength for the contest with Bill McNeen slated for the nurling job with Dick Romonosky doing the catching. At first base it will be Bob Dallas, with Dick O'Neil at second, "Flash" Griffiths at short and Fred Williams at third. Merle Dailey, Frank Logsdon and Harold Guiley are slated for outfield duty with Jim Hay, Joe Speaks, Aggie Miller and Buzz Kennedy in reserve.

The game will get underway at 2:15 p. m.

Kiwanis Baseball School Saturday

The weekly Kiwanis baseball school will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. with batting the main topic.

Last week, after a study of infield positions, a running contest was held. The winners were as follows: 10 and under, Gibbons first, Heggin second; 11-12, Roberson first, Shelton second; 13-14, Pickford first, Stricklin second; 15-16, Spurlock first, Yarber second.

Pankey's, Walker's, Nick's and Jukes Win Contests in Kiwanis League Play

By David Nelson

Pankey's Bakery downed the Cubs, 16-6; Walker's Cleaners defeated Ronnie's Studio, 5-1; Nick's Cafe crushed Sugar Creek, 13-3; and the golish Jukes beat the Wildcats, 16-4, in Kiwanis league games played Thursday.

McKeever slammed two home runs as Pankey's downed the Cubs, 16-6. The winners scored three runs in the second, seven in the third, five in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Cubs tallied one in the first, three in the third and two in the fourth.

Smith furlonged for Pankey's, giving up six runs on seven hits, nine errors and two free passes. Rose, Cub pitcher, allowed 16 runs on 15 hits, seven errors and six bases on balls.

For Pankey's at the plate McKeever collected four hits, including two homers; Wunderlich, Rector and Smith had two safeties each and Steinborn, Jenkins and Gibbons hit safely once. For the Cubs Wilson had two hits and Stinson, Rose, Barrett, C. Reed and D. Reed picked up one safety apiece.

Henshaw tossed a three-hitter as Walker's defeated Ronnie's, 5-1. The winners scored one in the first and four in the fourth, while Ronnie's scored their lone tally in the fifth.

Henshaw, on the hill for Walker's, gave up three hits and one walk, while striking out nine, and his team made two errors. Hefner and Molinaro, Ronnie pitchers, allowed five runs on seven hits, two errors and three free passes as they struck out five.

For Walker's at bat Crews picked up two safeties and D. Weatherly, J. Weatherly, Wallace, Vick

White Sox Grab First Place from Yankees; Vow They Will Hang On to Lead

By United Press

The swashbuckling Chicago White Sox, who walked into the Yankees' own back yard and took first place away from them in a no-quittin' battle, vowed today that this time they're going to hang onto it for a while.

Twice before within the last six weeks the Windy City whiz-bangs grabbed the top spot in the American league — on June 18, when they held it exactly one day; and on July 22, when they lasted only two days.

But, now, buoyed by confidence after Thursday's 3-2 thriller in which Billy Pierce fanned pinch-hitter Jerry Coleman of the Yankees with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning, the Sox feel it will be different.

"That was a mighty big one," beamed Sox skipper Marty Marion. "And it's still a mighty tough race. But this time we're on top."

Actually, the Sox lead by only two percentage points over the Yankees—and by only one game over the defending champion Cleveland Indians, who bounced Boston Thursday, 6-4. And fourth-place Boston is only three games behind, with fifth-place Detroit just 5 1/2 games away.

A Dramatic Game

The White Sox' big triumph at Yankee Stadium came in one of the most dramatic games of the current season—a game worthy of being a turning-point in the pennant race, if that's what it eventually proves to be.

For eight innings lanky Connie Johnson, called up from the minors earlier this month, shut out New York on four hits. Meanwhile, the Sox notched an unearned run off Bob Turley in the first inning on a walk, Billy Hunter's error, and Jim Rivera's single and two more earned tallies in the third on Minnie Mino's single and Walt Droppo's 14th homer of the year.

The Yankees almost scored in the sixth when Yogi Berra hit a fly to deep right field with Andy Carey on third base. But Rivera's brilliant throw nailed Carey at the plate.

The Yankees suddenly kayoed Johnson in the ninth when, in order with none out, Berra singled, Mickey Mantle homered, and Bobby Adams erred on Bill Skowron's grounder. Marion went for his best in the clutch—Pierce. After a fly out, the Yankees loaded the bases on a walk, a ground out, and an intentional walk. But then Pierce struck out war-hero Coleman on a 2-2 pitch to end the game.

Relievers Aid Wyan

For Cleveland, stout relief pitching by Don Mossi and Ray Narleski saved Early Wynn's 13th victory. Mossi fanned Ted Williams with two on in the eighth; Narleski fanned Faye Throneberry with two on in the ninth. Al Rosen hit his 16th homer for Cleveland.

Detroit continued its drive on first place by beating Baltimore, 7-5. Kookie Frank Lary gained his 10th victory, with relief help, and bonus baby Benito Santeda blasted a three-run double in the first inning to lead his support.

Kansas City and Washington were not scheduled in the American league.

In the National, the Brooklyn Dodgers retained their 12 1/2 game lead by beating Cincinnati, 10-2, as unbeaten rookie Roger Craig fanned 11 batters and Roy Campanella hit two home runs. Craig has won three games during his 11-day major league career. This was a five-hitter.

Second-place Milwaukee downed Philadelphia, 4-2, as Bob Buhl pitched an eight-hitter and Ed Matthews whacked his 25th homer; the third-place New York Giants beat Chicago, 4-1, as reliever Paul Giel fanned nine batters in seven innings; and rookie Willard Schmidt pitched a five-hitter for the Cardinals to beat Pittsburgh, 4-1.

Hell Drivers Use Every Model Of 1955 Dodges

An innovation in the 1955 edition of the Jack Kochman Hell Drivers at the Saline County fair Wednesday night will be the presence of every body type and model of the 1955 Dodges that the Hell Drivers use.

The lineup this year will include sedans, convertibles, station wagons, hard tops and even small trucks. At their private track in Florida, the Hell Drivers have been doing quite a lot of spring training in these new body types and have gone proficient in the handling of every type from station wagons to trucks.

Jack Kochman has long held the opinion that the great popularity of the thrill show, in a great part is due to the fact that the fans can visualize their own automobile out on the race track hurtling through space, or catapulting along on two wheels.

The addition of trucks and station wagons as well as convertibles, hard tops and sedans will give an added thrill to the fans who own these models.

As part of their 28-event thrill-packed program, the Jack Kochman Hell Drivers will be sending these multi-varied models through every conceivable test of endurance as they race them on two wheels, lean more than a hundred feet through space, crash through flaming barriers and roll end over end and side over side.

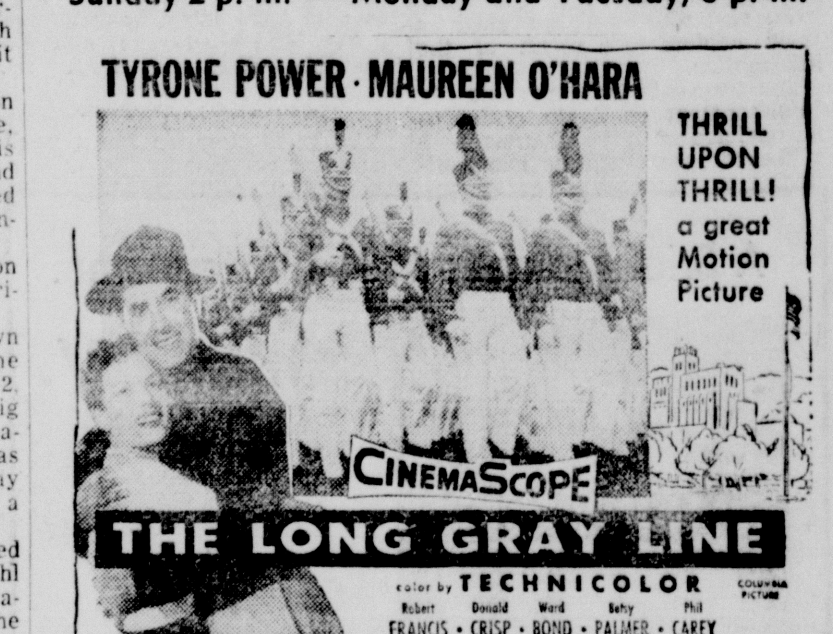

George Patton of Shelby, N. C., and Neil Hamilton of Lake Worth, Fla., together with Marty Stepha of Little Falls, N. J., and Louie Owens of Sioux City, Ia., will headline the troupe of Daredevils appearing with Jack Kochman at the fair.

Turncoats to Arrive Today; Face Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO — Three American turncoats who embraced and then spurned life in Communist China arrive in the United States today and will be put under immediate arrest.

The three GIs, Lewis Griggs, 22, of Jacksonville, Tex., William A. Cowart, 22, of Dalton, Ga., and Otto G. Bell, 24, of Olympia, Wash., will be allowed one hour to visit with their families aboard the S. S. President Cleveland, the ship returning here.

Lt. Gen. Robert N. Young, commander of the 6th Army, said he would take the turncoats into custody for pre-trial investigation. They have been under jurisdiction of the State Department since they departed from Red China.

Young said the three will be charged with aiding the enemy and informing on fellow American prisoners who were punished by their captors as a result of the information.

The turncoats face possible life imprisonment or death sentences if convicted on these charges. The turncoats will be transported to Fort Baker for processing and confinement. There they will wait under special guard while military officials plow through a 3-foot stack of documentary evidence to determine whether there is sufficient cause to hold a court martial. This will take several weeks.

Army officials said they will resist any moves by the three to seek writs of habeas corpus in a federal court. They pointed out that an act of Congress gives the Army jurisdiction for crimes committed while in the service, even though a man has been discharged.

Convict Sergeant Of Murdering Wife

NUERNBERG, Germany — U. S. Army Sgt. Thomas C. Tucker, Macon, Ga., was convicted today by a U. S. Army general court-martial of murdering his wife.

The court dropped from the charge the word "premeditated" in returning its verdict.

A verdict of premeditated murder would have carried a mandatory death penalty.

Tucker was sentenced to 25 years at hard labor, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and dishonorable discharge from the Army.

AN ARCHITECT'S DRAWING shows Southern Illinois University's proposed new agriculture building for which bids will be opened at SIU Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 2.

SIU to Open Bids Aug. 2 On New Ag Building

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Bids will be opened at Southern Illinois university at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 2, for the construction of a new SIU agriculture building, according to Charles Pulley, university architect.

Southern's approved capital appropriations for the current biennium includes $2,600,000 for the agriculture building, equipment and site development.

Design of the proposed building foresees meeting four-fold agricultural needs of the university and the area. These are:

1. To provide classrooms, laboratories, office space and research facilities for a growing on-campus student enrollment in agriculture, projected to the anticipated needs up to 1970;

2. To enable the university to conduct applied agriculture non-credit short courses of several weeks duration on campus—something for which no facilities have been available;

3. To better serve the area as a center for farm organization meetings, workshops, conferences, and short courses of one, two, or three days duration; and

4. To give adequate laboratory and other physical facilities for area-adapted research by Southern's School of Agriculture and such cooperating institutions and agencies as may be working with Southern on area problems in agriculture.

Pulley says the building plans call for a functional structure designed for the specific purpose of area service, unified agricultural instruction, and easy access for students and visitors. The building plans were developed in cooperation with the Perkins and Will, architect-engineers, Chicago.

The proposed building, 544 feet long, will extend along the west side of the campus Thompson Woods area between the SIU Science building and a new residence hall development on Thompson Point. It will be a one-story building except for a central 182-foot two-story wing containing administrative offices, classrooms, seminar and reading rooms, and a conference-exhibition hall for campus and area meetings, exhibitions, demonstrations, and instructional purposes.

The south section of the building, including a 270-foot wing, will house the plant study phases of agriculture—forestry, fruits, vegetables, and agronomy. The north section of the building will be quarters for the animal division. Three greenhouses, occupying the courtyard between the south and central wings, will be used for work in forestry, floriculture and landscaping, vegetables, fruit, agronomy, pest propagation, and disease testing.

Providing 72,144 square feet of floor space, the building will include 26 classrooms, nine student laboratories, nine research laboratories, and adequate office facilities.

Currently the SIU School of Agriculture is utilizing four temporary barracks building, a quonset hut, and a small calf barn for offices, classrooms, laboratories and shops. Dr. W. E. Keeper, SIU dean of agriculture, says the school is trying to accommodate with these inadequate facilities a staff of 19 persons and a student enrollment of some 180 agriculture majors representing nearly a 50 per cent increase in three years. A long list of area and state agricultural, business, civic, and labor groups supported the request for funds for the proposed permanent building.
